Dear Contra Costa County Library,

My name is Chianne from the Product Development Department of LitFire Publishing.

We are currently building a book review network to provide review services of quality to our authors. In line with this, I would like to invite your community of librarians to be part of our book reviewers. If you have librarians who are experienced in reviewing books, we'd highly welcome them.

In appreciation to your time and insights, should you decide to join our book reviewer community, we will be glad to reward you with monetary incentives. On top of that, we will be allotting you a 5-to-10-book display in one of the international book fairs we're joining annually (Paris Book Fair, Book Expo America, Frankfurt Book Fair, and London Book Fair). You may respond to this e-mail so we can further discuss on the terms of the benefits and other details.
Looking forward to hear from you. Cheers!

All the best,

Good morning:

The email below came to us addressed specifically to the Library Commission. Normally this would be brought up during the Correspondence portion of the meeting on May 25th. I detected a note of urgency regarding this, however, so I wrote to Chianne to see if this could wait until the meeting. As it turns out, she needs responses sooner than that, so Melinda suggested I send this out to all of you now so that you can contact Chianne directly if there is any interest on your part in pursuing this opportunity. Here is her contact information:
